Editor's Note

If you've thought about maybe signing up to help during post prom, but are hesitant due to either the late hours or because your child is reluctant to have you around – please note that I have done this volunteer gig, and if I can do it anyone can! I am an early to bed, early to rise kind of gal – so the hours didn't appeal to me, but I agreed to do it, and it turns out the time flew quickly and I was actually surprised when 2 am rolled around. In addition, I barely saw my own son that night – there are many different stations for chaperones, and many different activities for the kids – it is quite possible to stay (mostly) out of your child's way if that's what you and they prefer. So, with that in mind please consider signing up to help at post prom.
